Own a business? Then encouraging COVID-19 vaccination is your business.

- Every nonvaccinated person in your store, restaurant or office is an opportunity to infect a customer or an employee. Encourage your customers and employees to get vaccinated.
- Businesses are already struggling to find employees. You can protect others—and help keep our workforce and local economy strong—by getting a vaccine.
- We need to help keep local workers safe—and help keep our economy open. Retail employees interact with the public every day. COVID-19 could quarantine an entire staff and shut down operations. Getting vaccinated can help you protect yourself—and others—from getting sick.
