Partnerships are critical to ensure a patient's safe transition of care—especially during a public health emergency.

Eight months into the COVID-19 pandemic, an adequate PPE supply and access to testing are essential but not always enough.

Equally important are our partnerships with providers of healthcare in our community.

This virus serves as a wake-up call. Let's strengthen relationships and tackle challenges in a more committed, enduring way.

Explore how Community Coalition Leaders connected with partners across the continuum to collectively address COVID-19 challenges.

Discover ways to:

Harness the power of provider coalitions

Establish a COVID-19 focused coalition

Tackle critical areas as a coalition
